SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

In Summer Fields. On rusted slopes the slow sun bides, The sunburned clover dots the hills; In grassy nooks the cricket hides, And all the air with August thrills.

A roving swallow's eigant wing Cleaves, for a breath, the upper space, Where vagrant winds far wandering. Pass and repass and leave no trace.

By one lone pool the blue-vained fings.
Stand motionless amid the tide.
That ebbs and flows, that drifts and lags,
Adown and o'er the country-side.

Form forest depths comes floating past A turtle-dove's melodious call, Where softly, by dim silence cast, The gathering sindows cling and fall,

And faint, beyond the afternoon,
Where Geres waits on cloudy height,
In crescent curve the harvest amoon
Stands herald by the gates of night.

WHAT WILL YOU DO, LOVE?

By SAMUEL LOVER.

Samuel Lover was born in Dublin February 24, 1797; died at St. Hellen's, July 6, 1867, He was an Irish sang writer, novellat and painter. His chief novels are Rory O'More and Handy Andy. His "Songs and Ballades" were published in 1820, including "The Angel's Whisper," "The Low-Backed Car," "Molly Bawn," etc.

HAT will you do, love, when I am going The seas beyond-What will you do, love, when waves divide us, And friends may chide us

For being fond?" "Tho' waves divide us, and friends be chiding, In faith abiding.

I'll still be true! And I'll pray for thee on the stormy ocean, In deep devotion-That's what I'll do!"

"What would you do, love, if distant tidings Thy fond confidings Should undermine? And I abiding 'neath sultry skies Should think other eyes

Were as bright as thine?" "Oh, name it not-tho' guilt and shame Were on thy name I'd still be true:

But that heart of thine-should another share it-I could not bear it! What would I do?"

"What would you do, love, when home returning, With high hopes burning, With wealth for you,

If my bark, which bounded o'er foreign foam, Should be lost near home-Ah! what would you do?"

"So thou wert spared-I'd bless the morrow, In want and sorrow, That left me you; And I'd welcome thee from the wasting billow, This heart thy pillow-

That's what I'd do!"

EXCELLENT LIBRARY.

Mr. C. M. Dean, Deputy Clerk of Circuit Court, Buying Law Books.

Mr. Claude M. Dean, deputy clerk of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, after spending a month's vacation at Atlantic City and Saratoga Byrings, N. Y. has returned to the city. In the absence of Mr. Meloney, who is now away on his vacation, Mr. Dean has charge of the offices.

Mr. Dean, who is also the librarian of the court, is now busy making up and sending out to the law publishing houses a list of law books to be purchased under the recent act of Congress appropriating 1,000, When these books are received, this will be one of the finest federal law libraries in the South.

Many new cases are being docketed for the fall term of the court, which will be a very long one, judging from the present outlook.

The contractors are busily engaged fixing up the rooms recently allotted to the Judges of the Circuit Court of Appeals. As soon as the revenue offices are removed to the Shafer Building, those offices of the court, and be occupied by Mr. Meloney and Mr. Dean. Circuit Court, Buying Law Books.

With the Horse Show and the firement convention both in session at the same time, Harrisonburg will have a crowday present that will tax its utmost capacity to entertain. The hotels are full, the boarding-houses are crowded, and most of the private families are taking in visitors in order that there may be room for all. The programme calls for business sessions on Wednesday, a parade and band concert on Thursday, and the steamer contest and reel races on Friday. The prizes amount to $676.

OF CAMPAIGN

Mr. Swanson to Speak at the Academy Friday, Mr. Willard Monday Night.

MARTIN MAY SPEAK AGAIN

f He Can Get Here From Lawrenceville He Will Make Address on Saturday.

The Democratic State primary campalga, which has been growing steadily warmer since last April, will come to a close next Tuesday night when the polls close in the fifteen hundred precincts of this State. Richmond city is to have at candidates, and possibly a third one. Mesers, Swanson and Willard, rival candidates for Governor, will each speak here during the week, and Senator Martin will speak in this city on Saturday night, If he can reach the city from Lawrenceville, where he will speak next Saturday at a big barbecue.

Congressman Swanson will make his only speech of the campaign in this city on Friday evening at the Academy of Music. A list of honorary vice-presidents will have seats on the stage, and it is will have seats on the stage, and it is expected that a large crowd will turn out to hear what the candidate has to say. It is expected that he will have some very interesting things to say in view of the recent unwarranted attacks on him.

Willard Here Monday Night.

On Monday night, the last opportunity of the campaign, Mr. Williard will make his first address in Radausind city, though he has spoken at Furmount, just outside the corporate limits. Mr. Willard will have many of his prominent local will have many of his prominent local supporters on the stage that night, and at brass band has been secured to furnish music for the occasion.

As stated, it is yet doubtful whether Senator Martin will be able to speak here again. His only chance is to get from Lawrenceville to Emporia, a distance of twenty-one miles, by 5:40 P. M. The barbecue there will not begin before the early afternoon, and he would have to run away early if he caught that train: Even then he must drive the distance to Emporia. Governor Montague will make no more speeches in this city, according to announced programme. He may change his mind but there is no reason to suspect mind, but there is no reason to suspect
